NFI Vermont Presents Whit Smith

Legal and Ethical Challenges Confronting Mental Health Professionals

Subjects to be covered by the presentation include the following:

1. Managing high risk situations including duty-to-warn responsibilities and suicidal clients;
2. Recent Vermont legislation impacting clinicians' practices, particularly the provision of counseling services to minors;
3. Issues related to professionals' involvement in the legal system including responding to subpoenas and attorney requests;
4. Decisional authority in situations involving minors, divorce situations, and youths in State custody; and
5. Confidentiality and client-access-to-records issues.

Whit Smith provides legal representation to health care and community mental health, developmental, and behavioral health service providers in northern and central Vermont including NFI Vermont, Inc.; Howard Center, Inc.; Northwestern Counseling and Support Services, Inc.; and Collaborative Solutions Corporation.
